CHIEF CONNOLLY AT DEATH'S DOOR

Heart Failure Threatens the Life of the Brave Officer.

THE CRISIS NEAR AT HAND

At 3 O'Clock This Morning His Condition Was Critical.

HEROIC REMEDIES ARE BEING USED

Typhoid Fever Has Wasted His Constitution and He Cannot Rally Unless Malady Can Be Checked Today—Symptoms of Heart Failure.

The condition of Chief Arthur B. Connolly took a decided change for the worse last night, and at 3 o'clock this morning all hope had been practically abandoned for his recovery.

At midnight symptoms of heart failure were apparent and the physicians announced that the condition of the patient was critical. The fever has gradually broken down the constitution and but little vitality remains. Should the symptoms be true, the end will come today unless the heroic remedies now being applied can long sustain the feeble sparks of life.

Early yesterday afternoon Chief Connolly began to grow worse. The change came slowly, but surely, and at midnight the physicians were alarmed. At 2 o'clock this morning the physicians stated that there was but little hope, although everything possible was being done and every remedy known to science would be used before the case was abandoned.

The illness which has become so critical has been of several weeks' duration. Chief Connolly was present at the barbecue recently given by the city officials at the stockade. The next day he was not well, and while he was in Tybee attending the convention of chiefs he was ill. Reaching home, he was able to go to his office but once, returning home and taking his bed. The typhoid fever has caused typhoid pneumonia, and he is now threatened with heart failure.

Chief Connolly's Career.
Chief Connolly was first elected on the police force of Atlanta in 1871, when he was quite a young man. He was first a patrolman, but by efficiency and strict attention to duty rose to a captaincy, and in 1881 he became the chief of police. This latter office he has filled with credit to himself and with honor to the city, having been recently re-elected without opposition for another term of two years.

All day yesterday and until a late hour last night there were messages over the telephone inquiring about the chief's condition, attesting to the anxiety which was being felt for him throughout the city.

He has been universally esteemed and respected and in his extreme illness there is a heart-felt prayer throughout Atlanta for his recovery.

SULLIVAN SHOOT'S E. M. ALLISON.
Man Supposed To Be a Train Robber Resists Arrest.

Culman, Ala., August 10.—S. M. Allison, of this city, was shot last night in the upper part of this county by George W. Sullivan, whom he was endeavoring to arrest.

Sullivan was wanted by the Southern Express Company for train robbery in Arkansas. Last March circulars with photographs and descriptions of Sullivan were sent out. Yesterday a stranger traveling through the country stopped to get a drink of water at Walker's, near here. Young Phillips, who had one of the circulars at his home, at once recognized him. A few minutes further on, Powell, meeting Sullivan from the rear, informed him of the fact. When the sheriff reached town Sullivan passed through Allison and a Mr. Howell in pursuit. They found him at the house of Mr. Smothers, ten miles north of town, about 11 o'clock last night. Their knock on the door was answered by his being opened. They found their man lying on a pallet on the floor. Sullivan immediately raised himself to a sitting position and asked:

"Do you want me?" Allison answered: "If your name is Sullivan, I do."

The latter immediately raised himself. Sullivan then fired at him. Sullivan fled without shoes or hat. He went into Falkville this morning in a condition and surrendered, saying he had killed a man and feared violence. He is in custody at Decatur and will be brought here tomorrow. Allison is lying in a critical condition at his home here, where he was brought last night. He will hardly recover. The reward for Sullivan is $200.

AGEE MAY HAVE TRAIN ROBBER.
Man Under Arrest at Decatur May Be the Right One.

Decatur, Ala., August 10.—(Special.)—Route Agent Agee, of the Southern Express at Birmingham, and Deputies Waldrop and Culbert, came here today in quest of a man supposed to be one of the train robbers who held up a train at Berwyn station last December, and for whom a heavy reward is out.

The prisoner killed a man in Culman county last night, and is held here to await investigation. Many believe the man is one of the robbers wanted by the Express Company.

A MINISTER HANGS HIMSELF

Baptist Preacher Commits Suicide at Sheffield, Ala.

Florence, Ala., August 10.—(Special.)—Rev. James Yates, a Baptist minister, committed suicide in Sheffield this evening by hanging himself. He was found by his wife before life was extinct, but died in a few minutes.

Yates was from Detroit, Mich., and had been in Sheffield a year.

He was at odds with the members of the Baptist church there. He was sixty-five years old.

DISPENSARY'S HARDEST BLOW.

Judge Simonon's Latest Injunction Permits Half-Pint Shipments.

Columbia, S. C., August 10.—(Special.)—By an order issued today, Judge Simonon settled the only point in his decision on "original packages" of liquor, which was not clear.

He grants the injunction asked by Guck-enheimer & Sons, who sent their liquor into the state in single bottles packed loosely in a freight car, prohibiting dispensary officials from interfering.

This is the hardest blow the dispensary

THE HATFIELDS SLAY OFFICERS.

West Virginia Desperadoes Are Entrenched in Mountain Passes.

Williamson, W. Va., August 10.—Captain Hatfield, the desperado, who escaped a week ago from jail, is said to be in a mountain pass and to have recently killed Deputy Sheriff Johnson and four other deputies.

The officers are in hot pursuit and Judge Doolittle insists on the sheriff capturing Hatfield at any cost or risk.

It is believed there have been encounters, but nothing definite can be learned.

CRAMPS SUE THE GOVERNMENT.

Ship Builders Ask for Damages Aggregating $1,737,149.

Washington, August 10.—The William Cramp & Sons Ship and Engine Building Company, of Philadelphia, attorneys brought suit against the United States government in the court of claims to recover damages alleged to have been incurred by the company in building the battleships Massachusetts, Iowa and Indiana and the cruisers New York, Brooklyn and Columbia.

The complaint cites delay and faults of the United States government in furnishing the armor plate and plans under contract as the basis of the proceedings. The amounts claimed in the several suits aggregate $1,737,149.

NEW BATTLESHIP NOW READY.

Nashville Will Go Into Commission at Norfolk on the 19th.

Washington, August 10.—The Nashville will go into commission for the first time at Norfolk on the 19th instant.

She will probably relieve the Helena on the Florida patrol, enabling the latter vessel to come north and get ready for a cruise to the China station.

THEY WANT NO SPECIAL TAX.

North Carolinians Defeat Additional Aid to Public Schools.

Wilmington, N. C., August 10.—Meager returns of the election held today on the question of additional taxation for public schools fully sustain the forecast given in the special dispatches last night. The vote as far as received is almost unanimously against the tax.

In some precincts not a single vote was cast in its favor.

NO GOLD BASIS FOR MEXICO.

Government Denies Rumored Measures Will Be Taken.

City of Mexico, August 10.—The gold premium reached 128 today, and many believe it will go higher before the reaction begins.

Rumors that the government was about to take measures to put the country on a gold basis are contradicted.

THE VOTE OVERWHELMING.

The democrats of Virginia have said their principles, and they will say in their convention tomorrow, that while they in no sense question the integrity of the support which Colonel Elyson gives to the platform of his party, they still believe that, at this time, it is better to call to the high places men who have from the first been active in the silver cause. They are selecting Major Tyler simply and solely for this reason. By an overwhelming vote he will be the nominee of the convention. The table of delegates shows that 992 have been instructed for Tyler, 246 for Elyson and 22 are uncommitted, but most, if not all of these, will vote for Tyler and would do so if upon their votes the nomination rested.

The Senatorial Race.

The nomination of governor is important in this respect, and it is important in respect to national results, because a seat in the United States senate is involved. The gold men of Virginia—the few who are left—would like to see Senator Daniel defeated. Daniel has been active from the first in behalf of silver. He has been spotted as a mark for their opposition should they have any opportunity or chance of victory. The convention is a unit for John Daniel, just as it is practically a unit for Hoge Tyler. It is for Daniel as it is for Tyler because of his unwavering and unflinching support of silver. There is no room in the democracy of Virginia for men whose fealty on this issue can be questioned. Those democrats who, under the following of misguided leaders, left the party or who refrained from voting in the last election have been welcomed back, and most, if not all of them, have come back within the fold of the party. But it is felt here that the time has not arrived to place such men, however true they may be to the party nominations and however strong they may be in support of the party organization, it is not yet time to call them to the high places. The democrats of Virginia have just gone through with an experience with one governor who, being chosen as a democrat, went over practically to the opposition. They want no other such experiences.

The sentiment is all one way. The convention is as strongly a silver convention as if it were called on that one issue. It is large and thoroughly representative. Virginia takes no backward steps when democratic principles are involved.

Letcher Temporary Chairman.

At a meeting tonight of the state committee, Mr. G. D. Letcher, of Lexington, was chosen temporary chairman of the convention. The other temporary officers are secretary, Colonel John Bell Bigger, J. S. McInerney, sergeant at arms, The most interesting feature of the proceedings promises to be the attempt to adopt primary plans for the nomination of democratic candidates for the United States senate in this state.

This proposition will be advocated by some of the most prominent leaders. It will, however, meet with decided opposition in equally prominent circles.

FUSIONISTS ARE OUTGENERATED.

Anti-Fusionists Capture Ohio State Populist Convention.

Columbus, O., August 10.—The anti-fusion delegates at the populist state convention sprang a great political coup today. All the arrangements for the convention had been made by a committee composed principally of fusionists and were calculated to further the fusion plans.

When the anti-fusionists arrived, they had a majority of delegates they prepared to strike while the iron was hot. The district meetings were to have been held this afternoon and the convention tomorrow, but this arrangement was ignored and the delegates were hastily convened in the auditorium this afternoon.

A temporary organization was formed with John S. Griffin, as chairman and A. S. Lightwalle, of New Philadelphia, secretary. Mr. Seitz is one of the leaders of the anti-fusion faction, and he defied his position in a brief speech upon accepting the chairmanship. A recess was then taken and the district meetings were held in the auditorium, and committees re-elected. Adjournment was taken to 8 o'clock tomorrow morning.

When the committees on permanent organization met, it was decided to make the temporary organization permanent. Hugh Cavanaugh, the fusionist candidate for chairman, was defeated by a vote of 19 to 10 with John S. Griffin for chairman. All the anti-fusion delegates where there were contests.

Tonight the fusionists had arranged a meeting to be held at the ex-congressman Towne, of Minnesota, and to offset this the anti-fusionists arranged a revival meeting, which was addressed by W. S. Morgan, of Arkansas.

REPUBLICANS ARE HARMONIOUS.

Bailey, of Magoffin, Nominated for Clerk of the Court of Appeals.

Louisville, August 10.—Contrary to the expectations of many at the republican state convention, which was held in Muehle hall, this city, today, for the purpose of nominating a clerk of the court of appeals, the convention was entirely harmonious in its work. James G. Bailey, of Magoffin county, was nominated.

The state and national administrations were endorsed and civil service was opposed along the lines laid down by the recent Ohio republican convention. The convention was a quiet one.

There was no enthusiasm to speak of, the only real applause coming from the speakers referred to civil service reform.

CRISIS IS FAST APPROACHING.

Heavy Rain Drenched the Miners' Camps and Stopped the Marching.

Pittsburg, August 10.—A crisis is fast approaching in the miners' movement against the New York and Cleveland Gas Coal Company.

A heavy rain drenched the camp today and prevented the marchers from carrying out their regular programme. The only march of the day was made by 150 men at Camp Determination, who left camp shortly after 5 o'clock, and marching close to the Oak Hill tipple, spent two hours in the vicinity of the miners' homes. There was not even ordinary excitement attached to the invasion along Thomson's Run.

A summary of the day's development finds conditions much the same as they were yesterday, save that the company claims to have made a further break in the miners' ranks at Turtle Creek and Sandy Creek.

Charlestown, W. Va., August 10.—Meetings were held tonight at Edgewater, St. Clair, Forest Hill and Diamond creeks. At each place the miners decided to return to work tomorrow. They say they have lost faith in the strike leaders.

PLOWING, POLITICS AND POPE BROWN

Three Topics That Will Engage the Agriculturists at Hotel Tybee.

RECENT EVENTS DISCUSSED

Fight on the Agricultural Fund Is Not Approved.

SENTIMENT IS FOR IT TO STAY AT ATHENS

Ex-President Waddell Says That He Is Tired of Agitation—Speaks of Hon. Pope Brown in Politics.

By P. J. Moran.

Hotel Tybee, Ga., August 10.—(Special.)—The corridors of the Hotel Tybee tonight are filled with agriculturists, who displace ing addressed to the topic of the genuine Georgia farmer. A picture will be drawn of the farmer, before the war the motive power in the monumental and material progress of the state, a man of probity and intellectuality. The war destroys his possessions. When retreating to the ruins he starts upon his work of rehabilitating. In this wreck commerce was included as well as agriculture. To start the wheel the farmer was most essential, for upon his note placed in bank the money was secured which started anew the commerce of Georgia. This idea leads to the conclusion that the cities of Georgia are themselves the creation of the farm, so that in the last analysis all rests upon the farmer. Yet this creator and preserver of wealth is the one who has been least favored by the government, all its aid going to parasitic growths; hence is seen the necessity of a change of policy which will regard the farmer as the corner stone of the national fabric. The speech is one which will attract wide attention and will be warmly discussed.

Regarding the State Fair.

What of the state fair? The committee meets tomorrow and anticipating the possible falling off of Atlanta, a committee from Thomaston, headed by Captain John Triplett, is here to urge that the Thomas county fair of October 28th next be adopted as a ward of the state.

It would be an excellent way to bring

for the moment the air of summer frivolity which attaches to season resorts. One of their topics is Pope Brown's proposition to separate the agricultural fund from that of the State university. Strange as it may seem, there is opposition not only to the scheme, but to any further agitation of it, even among those who stand within the councils of the society. There is Colonel John O. Waddell, for instance, an ex-president, who says:

"I am opposed to this eternal agitation of the farmer as against the rest of the people. I hold that there is but one class of people in Georgia—the farmers—and that all the mercantile, professional and mechanical vocations are but recruiting stations for farmers' sons who fill them and keep them up. These people become consumers instead of producers, and to fight them is to fight our own kith. The state has made an agreement with the university to educate our sons, and it is our duty to abide by that agreement. The university is the best place for the agricultural fund to be invested, because it is best situated to give us a full return. I hope to see the day when no politician will make an effort to array the country against the city."

"Why, sir," said the ex-president, "those who are talking about an education limited to the office calling and have for our sons the ambition that they should occupy every position of honor and skill to which their talents entitle them. We believe that the influence of the university should be widened and not narrowed, so that the farmer's son attending it may discover the bent of his mind, whether it be agriculture, the professions or the arts."

Politics of the Meeting.

When asked what he thought of the political possibilities involved in the meeting of the society, Mr. Waddell said:

"We all know that Pope Brown has an ambition to be governor, and while we would like to see him in the office, still there are those of us who are of the opinion that he should not enter the race, as the time is not ripe for it. It would be better for him to offer for commissioner of agriculture, which I think he could get. Four years in that office would so entrench him that he could easily succeed to the governorship; then, by the way, there is going to be a hot fight over the commission of agriculture. The Black committee has stirred up a controversy, whether injury or not, and candidates to succeed Mr. Nesbitt are being talked of."

"I understand that ex-Congressman Charles L. Moses aspires to the place and has practically begun the canvass."

The promised presence of Martin V. Calvin, the supposed beneficiary of Mr. Swift's criticisms on Mr. Nesbitt, and the fact that he is leaning to the university side of the agricultural college controversy as opposed to Mr. Brown would indicate that he is strengthening his fences.

Still the race belongs to none of them yet, especially since Mr. Nesbitt is here tonight himself mingling among the tillers of the soil and seemingly confident that he will succeed himself.

President Brown's Speech.

President Brown reached the island tonight and was at once surrounded by those who look upon him as one of the coming gubernatorial candidates.

His speech before the convention tomorrow will steer clear of state politics, be-forward the advantages of wiregrass Georgia and the project is looked upon with favor by all who have heard of it.

Will Be Invited to Macon.

Macon, Ga., August 10.—(Special.)—At a meeting of the city council tonight an invitation was extended the Georgia State Agricultural Society to hold its next annual meeting in Macon. The invitation will be presented to the society at its meeting in Savannah tomorrow.

THINKS IT'S ANDREE'S BALLOON.

Sea Captain Encounters a Collapsed Air Sailer Flying North.

London, August 11.—According to a dispatch to The Daily Mail from Copenhagen, Captain Martensen, of the Bark Ansager, bound from Dublin to Onga, reports that on July 13th, when about two days' sail east of North Cape, the northernmost point of Europe, then being in Arctic waters, he saw a collapsed balloon, which he believed to be Herr Andree's.

TURKEY HAS FRESH PROPOSALS.

Tewfik Pasha Submits New Plans That Will Cause Tedious Delays.

Constantinople, August 10.—The peace conference met again today at Tophane Kiosk, the Tewfik Pasha, Turkish minister for foreign affairs, submitted fresh proposals regarding the evacuation of Thessaly the indemnity and other issues involved.

This is likely to cause a tedious delay.

BALD KNOB A PEARL KLONDIKE.

Lake in Arkansas Is Producing Some Rare Gems.

Little Rock, Ark., August 10.—For months or more the people living near Bald Knob have been finding valuable pearls in a lake near that place.

Hundreds of people have been opening mussel shells in search of the pearls and some rare gems have been found, some being sold for as much as $300. A special from Bald Knob says a syndicate of Memphis parties have leased the lake for a term of five years for $10,000.

They will build a fence around the lake and begin work with a steam dredger. The lake is said to be the richest pearl producer in the United States.

BLANCHE MORGAN RELEASED.

Suspected Filibuster Proves To Be a Boat in Government Service.

Washington, August 10.—The government will order the release of the schooner Blanche Morgan, now detained at Bridgeport, Conn., as a suspected filibuster.

Captain Verrey, representing the government at the Bridgeport ammunitions works, was at the department today and stated that the ammunitions found on the Morgan belonged to the government and was being shipped to New York.

It may be that the government may be called to pay a bill for demurrage growing out of the comedy of errors involving the detention of the Morgan.

HUNTSVILLE B & L GOES INTO COURT

Application for Receiver Will Be Filed Today.

ASSETS SAID TO BE $1,000,000

Stockholders' Bill Charges That the Association Is Insolvent.

JUDGE BRUCE SIGNS A RULE NISI

Plaintiffs in the Court Bill Declare Demands for Withdrawal Have Been Made Upon Company Without Being Compelled With.

A bill asking for a receiver for the Southern Building and Loan Association, of Huntsville, Ala., will be filed in that city this morning. The bill is prepared by Glenn & Rountree and Lawrence R. Brooks, of Atlanta, and Marion W. Harris, of Macon.

The assets of the company thus put in a receiver's hands are more than one million dollars.

These attorneys for their clients ask that the receiver be appointed owing to the fact that the association is insolvent. They allege that their clients have made repeated demands upon the corporation for a withdrawal and that as the association has refused to grant them this privilege within the time allowed by the law, they declare themselves insolvent of their own motion.

The parties who own stock in the company and who are the movants in the present action are J. D. Abel and Mrs. Mary Straton, of Macon, and Mrs. Mattie J. Lyon and L. D. Wilson, of Atlanta. These stockholders hold several thousand dollars worth of the stock of the association.

The Southern Building and Loan Association is one of the largest corporations of the kind in the United States, with assets considerably over $1,000,000. It does business in eleven states and the present bill will practically tie up this vast sum that is scattered in small amounts over these states.

The bill is known as a "stockholders' or administration bill" and purports to be filed in behalf of all the stockholders of the association. The corporation being insolvent, they say it is right that all the shareholders should be protected before the association becomes wholly defunct. It is alleged by the complainants that they brought the stock of the association with the understanding that at the end of six years it was to mature and they were to receive the principal and the earnings.

The company was formed in 1889 and the prospectus of it at that time stated that for each thousand dollars' worth of stock the applicant wanted he could pay into the association $7 per month for six years, at the end of which time the stock would have matured and the stockholders would own a thousand dollars' worth of the stock of the association, having made earnings to the amount of $48.

Many Subscribed to It.

A large number of people went into the arrangement, thinking that they could double their money in the six years. The bill continues, alleging that in the case of the present movement the rule nisi yesterday for each thousand dollars' worth of stock the applicant wanted he could pay into the association $7 per month for six years, at the end of which time the stock would have matured and the stockholders would own a thousand dollars' worth of the stock of the association, having made earnings to the amount of $48.

Then a number filed their applications and were notified that they must turn their money up to the court, as they stated, would be from six to twelve months, as there were many applications ahead of them, in one instance 2,100.

Judge Bruce, of the United States district court of the middle and northern district of Alabama, signed the rule nisi yesterday at noon and Mr. Maxon W. Harris left Macon immediately for Huntsville, the home of the defendant corporation, to place it upon record and have a copy of it served upon them. Judge Bruce has fixed the hearing of the case for the full term of the hearing of the case for the full term of October and it will be heard early in October.

The effect of this receivership will extend over the entire south and the indications are that many bills of a similar character will be filed as soon as it is known that someone has taken the initiative. The association has loans to the amount of $75,000 and with their other resources the amount, according to the statement of the association on June 30th, to $1,094,943.

These extend over every manner of assets and are owned by several thousand people. The liabilities amount to the same. They have received a total return during the last twenty-four months of $75,943.11, with a total profit for the last six months of $41,636.74.

It is claimed by the officers of the corporation that the association is in a very flourishing condition and the present action of Judge Bruce will be a surprise. In an open letter to the shareholders, dated June 30th, they say that their assets have diminished nearly $80,000, which is due to the distrust of the people in such associations caused by the failure of a number in neighboring states.

What the Bill Says.

As regards the failure to meet certain withdrawals they say "that the association is compelled to make payments on withdrawals should occasion no surprise, nor serve to incite distrust, for conditions beyond its control arising to create distrust will augment the purpose of the investor to withdraw, and under like conditions, were the same existing, the purpose of the investor to release himself simultaneously, that powerful and annoying factor of delayed settlements would be an unnecessary element."

It will continue to be the policy of the association to maintain absolute solvency and thus safely fortified to return to the shareholder his just proportions and meet his demand as quickly as the nature of the business will permit.

The attorneys for the plaintiffs to the bill filed yesterday will fight the case to the end, and if some settlement is not reached before October, when the case is set to be heard, a receiver will be appointed.

Entertainment for the Benefit of the Woman's Exchange Given.

SIX YOUNG LADIES AS USHERS

Programme Was Enjoyed by a Large House of the Society People of Atlanta.

The entertainment given at the Grand opera house last evening for the benefit of the woman's exchange was a success. The programme was interesting and artistically arranged. Every number received an encore, but by previous arrangement, no one was allowed to respond, though the house shook.

Several minutes before the curtain went up the lower floor was packed to the door. At half-past 7 o'clock the crowd began to arrive. None of the seats were reserved, and those who came first were given their choice.

The most unique part of the evening's entertainment was the young ladies ushers. The crowds piled in and the six young ladies in pretty white organdie dresses received them.

"High this way, and I will show you a good seat," said a sweet-voiced young lady. Half a dozen followed behind the usher as she swept down the aisle with the grace of a queen.

"I want to get the fifth seat on the ninth row of section B," was the request of a rather stout lady who is a frequent theatergoer, and who has this particular seat always reserved for her, during the winter season. The little usher looked puzzled for a few seconds, then started toward section C, thinking that she was going toward B. She was given assistance and the lady was given her old seat.

By 8 o'clock the lower floor was crowded out to the doors, and the six ushers stood guard outside and sent all late comers to the balcony. It was not long before this section of the house was filled. It is estimated that fully 2,000 people witnessed the entertainment last night.

The young ladies who acted as ushers were: Misses Everett, Black, Leonard, Goode, Apple, Courtney, Miss Lucy Kohn acted as doorman. The programme was a delightful one and the thoroughly interesting.

BICKETT FAMILY MAKE A HIT.

Their Wonderful Work at the Coliseum Is a Great Attraction.

The "Bickett family," among the most prominent acrobats in this country, have been exhibiting to thousands of people at the Coliseum since Monday night.

The family is composed of four people. Their work is done in midair on flying trapezes and is one of the most marvelous exhibitions of its kind ever seen in this city. The two little ladies, who do a clever turn, have made themselves popular with all those who have been out to see them.

Mr. and Mrs. Bickett on the flying trapeze are wonderful. Their act of throwing one of the little girls through the air while both are swinging is wonderful.

The Bickett family will be at the Coliseum the rest of this week. No admission is charged.

ATLANTIANS AT NORFOLK.

Mayor Collier and the Officials Strike the Old Dominion People.

Norfolk, Va., August 10.—(Special.)—Georgia and Virginia joined together today when Mayor Collier and his party of councilmen and city officials were entertained handsomely by Mayor Mays and the city officials of Norfolk. The prominent citizens and officials of Portsmouth.

The Atlantians arrived via the Seaboard this morning and the day has been a delightful one for them. The people of Norfolk took charge of the party upon arrival and one pleasant event after another has marked the day. Georgians and Virginians clanked glasses in union and drank to the health of the Old Dominion and of the Empire State of the South. The Atlantians are here to inspect Norfolk's steel paving and they were shown about the city by Mayor Mays and his party.

The city hall, public market, military armory, fire department and other public institutions of the city were visited and this afternoon the Seaboard Air-Line Railroad company complimented the city by a tugboat trip down the river and the Chesapeake bay to Old Point Comfort and to Fortress Monroe, where the government's finest Seaboard protecting guns are located.

The Atlantians were entertained at the new palace and magnificent hotel at Old Point, the Chamberlin. Upon returning to the city the party was released by the officials and the Atlantians will battle with the surf at Virginia Beach, tonight.

CRUSHED BETWEEN TWO TEAMS

MR. PRIESTLEY ORME THROWN FROM HIS WHEEL.

Teams Were Going in Opposite Directions and Caught Him Between the Wheels.

Caught on his wheel by two teams going in opposite directions, thrown to the stone pavement, and trampled under the hoofs of frightened horses, was the horrible experience of Mr. Priestley Orme just before dark yesterday afternoon.

The accident happened near the Young Men's Christian Association building, and was witnessed by a number of pedestrians, who were unable to check the horses or for the time to extricate the unfortunate wheelman. Mr. Orme was badly injured, but it is expected that he will be out in a few days.

The accident happened in a queer manner. The young man had mounted his wheel near the Equitable, and was riding toward Peachtree street. When just before the Young Men's Christian Association building he turned to one side to avoid a wagon which was going before him at the same time, and at the same moment a team came around the corner from Auburn avenue, and before he was aware of it, Mr. Orme was crushed between the two teams.

The wheels of the wagon passed entirely over his body, and the horses of the other team, being checked up, began to paw viciously. The wheelman was prostrate on the pavement, and before he could be pulled out was severely injured. Unfortunately, the driver of the team which came from the corner, instead of whipping his horses on, thought it best to rein them in, and excited by the scene, they trampled the young man mercilessly. One of his hands was badly mashed, and on his head, where the front of one of the horse's hoofs, Mr. Orme was able to get home unaccompanied. He is badly bruised, and will not be out for several days.

Joseph Allen Looking for His Runaway Son.

Joseph E. Allen, the watchman at the capitol, has requested the police to look for his runaway son.

Joseph Allen, Jr., about sixteen years of age, and he left the paternal roof at No. 30 Broyles street last night.

Mr. Allen thinks his son has gone to Chattanooga, and the police authorities have telegraphed to that city asking that the boy be arrested and sent back to Atlanta.

Mr. Allen knows no reason why the young man should seek another place of abode than his home.

SUSPECTED OF ROBBERY.

Grace Earle and W. P. Morton, a White Couple, Arrested on Suspicion.

Yesterday morning Grace Earle, a pretty young white girl, and W. P. Morton, a white man, were arrested and locked in the police barracks on the suspicion of robbing a man.

The young couple are thought to be connected with the robbery of a man on Monday night, while on a visit with the Earle woman, who was robbed at the same time.

Both Morton and the girl deny any complicity in the robbery.

CAMP MEETING BREAKS.

The Services at Mount Gilead Camp Grounds Are Over Today.

The Mount Gilead camp meeting, which has been running since Sunday, closed today.

This year's service has been the largest in the history of the camp ground. The attendance has been the largest yet. On Sunday over five thousand people were gathered around the big altar to hear the services.

Dr. Heldt, of this city, is the presiding elder of the circuit and has been at Mount Gilead since Sunday. He preached one of the services on Monday and was heard by fully 4,000 people.

Three services a day has been the programme since the meeting has been going on. Prominent ministers from over the state have been in attendance and have conducted the meetings. This year's session has been the best in the history of the camp grounds as far as the attendance at the grounds. A number of others will put up tents next year, and among them will be Sheriff Nelson.

ORNAIMENT WINS

AT GROSSE POINT

Detroit Jockey Club's Opening Day Had a Large Crowd.

WAS A GALLOP FOR THE WINNER

Meadow Thorpe Ran Second While Moncreith Finished Third.

PAYMENT OF THE PURSE WAS PROTESTED

Race Was Worth $8,065 and the First Horse Got $7,065, the Balance Going to Other Two.

Detroit, August 10.—Ornament easily proved his superiority in the International Derby today and won the star feature of the Detroit Jockey Club's opening day at Grosse Pointe with the greatest ease. Attendance was about 5,000.

Ornament took the lead at the start and was never headed, winning in a gallop in 2:38. The course was straggling and for a furlong they were bunched and ran in close company to the stand, Ornament leading by a length with Pure II second and Meadow Thorpe third, Moncreith trailing two lengths back.

Going around the upper turn Dare made a futile attempt to take the lead, but Ornament easily shook him off. Down the back stretch the order remained unchanged. Dare by this time was soundly beaten and had dropped back. At the lower end of the stand Moncreith gave it up and this left the race a procession in which Ornament crossed the line three lengths ahead of Meadow Thorpe, who was easily second, and Moncreith third.

The race was worth $8,065, of which $7,065 went to the first horse, $700 to the second and $300 to the third.

A protest against paying the money earned by Ornament was filed by McGulgan on the ground that Ornament has been variously entered this year as the property of Charles Patterson, Charles T. Patterson and Charles T. Patterson Company.

First race, six furlongs—Foy Belle, 6 to 1; w. Griskos, 3 to 1; second, Old Sausage, 6 to 1; third, Time, 1:20.

BROOKS
DECLARES
REYNOLDS GUILTYBloody Details of the Murder Are Told in CourtTHE KILLING IS NOT DENIEDBut Brooks and Reynolds Would Shift
the Responsibility.

MANY WITNESSES TESTIFIED YESTERDAY

Red-Handed Murderer Tells the Shocking
Story of the Murder—He Declares Reynolds Is GuiltyWhile He Should Escape.

The two red-handed conspirators, Bud Brooks and Grady Reynolds, told of the terrible killing of M. C. Hunt at Jefferson, Ga., yesterday, each accusing the other of striking the death blow and each telling a different version of the killing.

Both stories are horrible and bring to light one of the most dastardly conceived conspiracies known in the annals of time.

The confessions of the two men have been published, but during their statements yesterday many minor details were brought out that are new to the public.

In the statement of Bud Brooks, who is on trial for his life, he claims that Reynolds came to him and proposed the crime. Reynolds claims it is just the other way. Both men say they refused to enter into the conspiracy at first, but the pressure of the other made them change their minds and consent to commit the crime.

In the statement made by Brooks he accused Reynolds of striking the blows that did the work. He said he was not present at the time the first blow was struck, but was working in a field. Reynolds' testimony was that all three of them—Reynolds, Hunt and Brooks—were out hunting and that Brooks attracted old man Hunt's attention to a bird and then struck him.

The stories of both men coincide in the sinking of the body in the river after they had split it half open with axes. Reynolds accuses Brooks of doing all this work.

The courtroom at Jefferson was packed to its doors. The crowd yesterday was larger than it has been, and it was with considerable trouble that the bailiffs kept them in order.

Just before court convened Judge Hutchins addressed the throng and requested them not to hurt the bailiffs, as they were greatly interested in the trial that was soon to begin. No demonstrations were made, but the stories told by the conspirators excited them to a high pitch.

No trouble is expected, as the two men are convicting themselves by their statements.

Many Witnesses Testify.

A number of witnesses were placed on the stand, who identified the watches, pistol and other articles that were found by the police at the murder scene. Dr. W. H. Hardman, of Harmony Grove, testified as to the wounds. Sheriff Brazleton told of the confession of Reynolds. Made just after he was caught. Sheriff Brazleton said:

"Reynolds had been in jail some time when he told Mr. B. A. McElhenny where he could find the body. He was taken out of the jail and taken to the place and found $35 in greenbacks hidden under a rock. After that Mr. McElhenny promised to give him $50 if he told where the gold was hidden. He went with us to the place and we found at the foot of a tree under a rock $35 in gold, which was in a small sack. That Reynolds said was old man Hunt's money."

Mr. Johnson, representative of Hall county, was called. The jury was returned, as the solicitor wanted to ask the witness several questions. They related to the admission that he would make. It was agreed to allow these questions to go in the records.

The jury was recalled and Mr. Hunt made his statement in full.

Brooks to Victim's Brother.

"I had a talk with Bud Brooks at Lulu Junction March 5th. He had been carried to Oakway, S. C., and was being carried to Jackson county jail and had been released at that station to change cars. He and I and the deputy sheriff of Oconee county, went into the waiting room, where Brooks made his confession."

"On February 22d information reached me that my brother, M. C. Hunt, had been murdered and robbed and that Grady Reynolds had charge of his store. Upon my arrival there I went for the mayor and had a warrant issued for the arrest of Reynolds and Brooks."

"Reynolds was arrested and confessed that he and Brooks had killed my brother, Oconee county and sunk the body in the river. The officers went to the river, where the body was found."

"I offered a reward and got the governor to offer another for Brooks's capture."

Clear the Way

ture. He was captured and made a confession."

There are two conflicting points in the confessions of the two men. Reynolds says that Brooks struck the death blow and Brooks says Reynolds struck it. Reynolds blames that Brooks cut the body open after they got to the river and sank it.

Brooks Tells the Story.

At 2 o'clock Bud Brooks was placed on the stand. He said:

"About two weeks previous to the killing of Mr. Hunt, I was over in South Carolina and told me that he could get some money easily from old man Hunt. I refused at first, but finally agreed to go with him. We went over to Jackson county and went to work for Reynolds cutting cross-ties. He had not paid me any money and I threatened to leave him. He begged me to stay over and said that he would pay me. I decided to stay. Reynolds went to Belton the next day."

"He brought old man Hunt back with him and passed where I was working. In a few minutes I heard Grady Reynolds follow him and myself toward me. As he came up he said, 'Bud, I have almost killed old man Hunt.' I said: 'Grady, surely not.' 'Yes, I have; come with me at once and we will see what I got to where Hunt was he was breathing his last. Reynolds said to me: 'Pick up that gun and finish him.' I replied: 'Grady, I can't do it; my hands fall off.' He then picked up the gun and struck him a blow and that caused the breath to leave him."

"Reynolds and I went back to the house in old man Hunt's buggy. From here we went three miles below Harmony Grove, where we divided the money. I got $35 in greenbacks and myself I have given up every cent of the money and the watch that I received that belonged to the dead man. The money which I got was from the money which my brother's wife."

Following the statement made by Brooks the man who will be placed on trial today for the same offense was called on the witness stand against his brother conspirator. Reynolds was pale and seemed to have lost the nerve, which he has displayed so far during the trial. He told his story, making frequent pauses, and never once looking at Brooks. He said:

"Brooks first proposed the crime in last September. But I refused to go into it with him. Some weeks after that he again mentioned it and I agreed to it. He said that old man Hunt got his money dishonestly and that we were as much entitled to it as he was."

"Brooks came down to where I was getting out cross-ties in Jackson county. He told me that he had a plan to go into it with him. I was to go down to Mrs. Butler's farm and get the money, and that there were some things in the house that he wanted. He told me that he had a plan to go into it with him. "Brooks first proposed the crime in last September. But I refused to go into it with him. Some weeks after that he again mentioned it and I agreed to it. He said that old man Hunt got his money dishonestly and that we were as much entitled to it as he was."

"Brooks came down to where I was getting out cross-ties in Jackson county. He told me that he had a plan to go into it with him. I was to go down to Mrs. Butler's farm and get the money, and that there were some things in the house that he wanted. He told me that he had a plan to go into it with him. I was to go down to Mrs. Butler's farm and get the money, and that there were some things in the house that he wanted."

"I took the money and went to the house in old man Hunt's buggy. From here we went three miles below Harmony Grove, where we divided the money. I got $35 in greenbacks and myself I have given up every cent of the money and the watch that I received that belonged to the dead man. The money which I got was from the money which my brother's wife."

Following the statement made by Brooks the man who will be placed on trial today for the same offense was called on the witness stand against his brother conspirator. Reynolds was pale and seemed to have lost the nerve, which he has displayed so far during the trial. He told his story, making frequent pauses, and never once looking at Brooks. He said:

PERRY HAS ONLY
ONE WEEK OF LIFEThe Supreme Court Refuses To Grant the Mandamus Nisi.

MURDERER TO DIE WEDNESDAY

He Has No Other Hope Unless the Governor Interferes.

PERRY TALKS OF HIS CHANCES OF LIFE

Says His Only Hope Is with the Governor and God—Governor Will Not Interfere.

"My only hope for life is with the governor, now. He's all there is to look to," said H. S. Perry yesterday when told that the supreme court had refused to grant a mandamus in his case.

Perry has just one more week to live. He will be hanged next Wednesday between the hours of 11 and 1 o'clock.

The supreme court handed down its decision yesterday morning in the case of the appeal that had been made on the previous day. The decision of the higher court was absolute and for ever settled the case so far as the courts and laws are concerned. The constitutionality of the case and the decision of the court is a bill of exceptions was denied and Perry's last legal hope was blasted.

An appeal will now be made to Governor Atkinson. The attorneys for the condemned man will present petitions asking that the sentence of the court be commuted to life imprisonment.

Governor Atkinson will in all probability refuse to interfere and a jury of twelve men has said that Perry should die. Judge Candler has also refused to do anything to save the condemned man's life and there is no probability that Governor Atkinson will decide against all these tribunals of justice, especially the jury.

BANKSTON CASE
WILL END TODAYArgument Was Begun Late Yesterday Afternoon.

DEFENSE HAD MUCH EVIDENCE

Tended To Show That Bankston Was Justifiable in the Killing.

MR. ALBERT MAKES A STRONG ARGUMENT

He Criticizes the Inquest and Says
Examination of Wounds Was Not Thorough—Bankston Hopeful.

The end of the trial of Officer S. B. Bankston, which has been proceeding slowly for the past two days, will be reached today. The defense has much evidence to offer and the inquest was not thorough.

The fact that Welch attempted to use his knife on Bankston was brought forward by the defense. The evidence showed that Bankston was not armed and that Welch was the aggressor.

The state laid great stress on what Bankston said when those who heard the pistol shots approached to where the dead man was lying. Some of the witnesses differed on this point, but the evidence tended to show that Bankston had said he killed the man in self-defense.

The testimony of the defense was very strong. The defense argued that Bankston was not armed and that Welch was the aggressor.

Woman and Society

A Tribute to Mrs. Sonn.

The Ladies' Sewing Society, an auxiliary of the Hebrew Orphan Association, at their last meeting, paid a high tribute to their deceased member, Mrs. Fannie Sonn, who, as matron of the Hebrew Orphan home, has been regarded as a potent factor in the great success of that institution. She was the wife of Superintendent Sonn and the veritable mother of the little orphan children under her care. She is said to have supervised the details of the character of each individual child, and in her care and training of them observed those principles that have made the basis of kindergartens and the great interest in the industrial pursuits of the older inmates, and from the oldest to the youngest she looked up to with that love and respect that children naturally bestow upon their benefactors.

The orphans were grief-stricken at her death as were all her friends and those appreciating her strength and nobility of character.

At a special meeting of the Ladies' Sewing Society, for the express purpose of adopting resolutions in honor of Mrs. Sonn, the following were unanimously passed:

"That we deeply feel and mourn the loss of one of our most valuable co-workers in the field of charity and benevolence for cause of the institution she so nobly represented."

"One who never knew self when duty called, sacrificing her very life upon the altar of love and duty."

"By the great effort in providing for those that were placed under her care, she set us an example, spurring us ever onward to higher aims in the cause we represent."

"With the little ones under her care, the word orphan lost its sting, for she was truly a mother to them."

"As a token of our deep grief, the members of the Ladies' Sewing Society, of Atlanta, present this expression of sympathy to the bereaved family and desire the same to be spread upon the minutes of the society."

Order Old Fashioned Women.

The chapter A. of the Order of Old Fashioned Women met yesterday morning at the home of Mrs. Robert Foreman. Various matters of importance were discussed and it was decided to give an entertainment early in September for the benefit of the new ward to be added to the Grady hospital. Beginning in September this chapter will meet once a week regularly at the homes of the different members and sewing will be regular work for the poor in all the charitable institutions of the city.

The various hands belonging to the order will meet in the course of the next few weeks and decide upon their regular time of meeting.

Laird-Elis.

The wedding of Miss Fannie Laird and Dr. Joseph N. Ellis, of Tennessee, occurred last night at the residence of the bride's parents, Colonel and Mrs. Laird, on Whitehall street. The wedding was a quiet, happy affair, witnessed only by the relative and intimate friends of the contracting couple.

After the ceremony luncheon was served and the happy couple left on the evening train for a trip north, previous to returning to their home in Tennessee.

Miss Laird is the only daughter of Colonel and Mrs. Laird and a young woman of superior character and intellect. She is highly accomplished and possessed of the attractive qualities that drew to her a large circle of admiring friends.

Dr. Ellis is a successful young medical practitioner in Tennessee and is taking his young bride to a charming home where she will be heartily welcomed by his large circle of friends.

Alkabet Growing in Size.

The Alkabet magazine, which has occupied such a unique position among the literary productions of the south, has advanced to the point of the stage to the full dignity of a magazine.

The history of this bright publication gives a practical illustration of the fact that the south is no longer wholly dependent upon the north for good periodical literature, but that the home productions alone side the more pretentious publications of the north and west.

The Alkabet discards with the September number to a full eighty-page magazine and there will be a marked improvement along with it.

Mr. W. R. Carradine, of St. Louis, has taken charge of the business management of the publication and will combine his Western enterprise with the literary merit of Carradine was for a long while connected with the religious press in Chicago and the St. Louis Globe-Democrat and is a man of wide experience in the line.

The September number of the Alkabet will be out on August 27th.

Social Notes.

Mrs. J. B. S. Holmes has returned home.

Mrs. Louise Gordon is visiting friends in Newnan.
